

Texas's Approach to Maintaining & Increasing the Diversity of the Physician Workforce Since the Hopwood Decision

Friday, October 31, 2003
9:30 a.m. – 10:45 a.m.

Panel: Budge Mabry, director – Texas Medical and Dental Application Service and Joint Admission Medical Program and Mary Wainwright, deputy director – East Texas AHEC

Moderator: Steve Shelton, director – East Texas AHEC

This session will examine Texas responses to the 1996 Hopwood court decisions eliminating race-based admission policies in Texas schools. We will discuss medical schools recruitment strategies; the state's new initiative, Joint Admission Medical Program (JAMP,) and data findings from medical school diversity admissions.