

RWJF Update

Presented by Anne Weiss

Senior Program Officer

The Robert Wood Johnson Foundation

RWJF Grantmaking Portfolio

- Human Capital
- Vulnerable Populations
- Pioneering
- Targeted Portfolio

Human Capital Portfolio

- To promote leadership in and improve the current and future health and health care workforce.

Vulnerable Populations Portfolio

- To promote innovative community-based solutions to health that, in combination with social factors, affect health and health care outcomes for society's most vulnerable people.

Pioneering Portfolio

- To explore and create new or especially innovative and high-risk approaches to out grantmaking

Targeted Portfolio

- To help address specific systemic problems in health and health care over a defined time period.

Focused Objectives

Grantmaking under the Health Group

- Protecting people through policies proven to reduce tobacco use
- Expanding and improving treatment for abuse of alcohol and drugs
- Strengthening the leadership capacity and information infrastructure of the public health system
- Halting the growing epidemic of childhood obesity

Grantmaking under the Health Care Group

- Improving the quality of care for those with chronic conditions, focusing on outpatient settings
- Reducing racial and ethnic disparities in health care
- Transforming the practice of nursing and care at the bedside
- Raising public awareness to ensure coverage for all Americans.

Childhood Obesity

- Healthy Food environment
- Community and Policy Opportunities
- Exploratory over next year

Nursing

- Improve Working Environments in Hospitals
- IHI Prototype

Disparities

- Collection of Race and Ethnicity data
- Evidence-based interventions to improve quality by reducing disparities

Quality

- Improve outpatient care for chronic illness
- Measurement
- Provider, Purchaser and Consumer emphasis